"BEFORE AND AFTER"

During the primary campaign, one Reginald Raymond Brewster, with much emphasis, went on record to show his antagonism toward the League of Nations, and certain Wilson policies.

During the past few days he has gone on record in public utterances eulogizing former President Wilson. His tactics now are in vain endeavor to alienate Democratic votes.

Speaking at a mass meeting of the Republican Women's Club of St. Louis on the night of July 18, Brewster said: "The statement that I voted for Woodrow Wilson is an absolute falsehood, and is known to be so by men who make it and the newspapers who circulate it. It is not only false, but it is utterly ridiculous in face of the fact that in each of the Wilson campaigns I spent six weeks stumping the state of Missouri at my own expense for the Republican ticket from top to bottom."

"Lie No. 2 is that I favored the League of Nations. This statement which is being given wide publicity is without foundation. I do not mind much being accused of murder or highway robbery, but I do mind the charge of having favored the League of Nations. I was one of the most outspoken and bitter opponents the League of Nations had. So drastic were my criticisms and so bitter my attacks upon the League that newspaper reporters who traveled with Gov. Hyde and myself told the Governor that they felt I was entirely too drastic in my criticisms of the President."

Speaking to a Boone county audience at Columbia, Mo., on October 4, the same Brewster said: "I have been advised not to mention the name of Wilson. I don't care if I lose every Republican vote in the state of Missouri for such a reason. I believe Woodrow Wilson was a patriot and tried to serve his country."

Thus we find the Republican nominee for the United States Senate, trying to win Democratic favor. Who was it that said: "You can fool some of the people all of the time and all of the people part of the time, but you can't fool all of the people all of the time."

Hyde and the Judiciary

The rumors that Governor Hyde has sent out the word that he must have a Republican Supreme Court seems to be well founded as the speech he delivered at Clayton, Mo., Oct. 7, 1922, confirms these rumors.

In this speech, the Governor made an unwarranted attack upon the Supreme Court apparently because the decisions of that court have not always coincided with his views as to the correct interpretation of our constitution and laws.

The greatest safeguard to a liberty-loving people is an independent judiciary. This is the first time in the state's history that a Governor has made an appeal to party prejudice in an election of men to this high office. It is inconceivable how a Governor of a great state could hope to further his ideas of state government through the judiciary, but his statements and public utterances have created a fear in the minds of all citizens who believe that the judiciary should be independent and that this great institution of our state government should at all times be and remain above suspicion.

The manager of the Republican campaign has quietly sent out the word to his workers in every precinct that they must have the Supreme Court, giving as a reason that the vote upon the judicial candidates for said office will determine the politics of the state of Missouri and that if the Republicans hope to elect a Governor two years from now and to carry this state for a Republican President, it is absolutely essential that they now elect the judicial ticket.

ESTIMATED NEW TARIFF TAX IS 14,000,000,000

Washington, D. C., Oct. 6.—The Fordney-McCumber Profiteer' Tariff bill, which is estimated to double the taxation of the American people; that is to say, to add another $4,000,000,000 in the way of taxes, but of which only a few hundred million will go into the Treasury, the balance will go into the pockets of the special privilege class, has been signed by the President and is now a law.

This tariff bill, aptly termed "the coffin for the corpse of prosperity," will fall heaviest upon farmers and working men, by reason of the fact that it will still further curtail the farmers' foreign markets, and by destroying what little is left of our foreign trade will greatly reduce production in manufacturing lines as well as in natural industries.

In a speech just prior to the passage of the bill Senator Underwood, the Democratic leader of the Senate, called attention to some of the outrageous rates of the bill, particularly to the wool schedule, in which he showed that the tax levied on raw wool would collect out of the pockets of the American people $200,000,000 only $20,000,000 of which would go into the pockets of the special interests.

Senator Underwood excoriated that feature of the bill which transfers the taxing power from Congress to the President, and said:

"I don't think it will last long as a law. If it should last long, if the terms of the bill were to stay on the statute books for two decades, I would predict the rottenest filth and corruption that could grow out of such a bureaucracy, that would be a stench in the nostrils of all good people. But I do not think it will last. I think before that day comes the American people will take the size of what this Congress has done, will realize that the Congress has laid down a great responsibility that was given to them, which the Constitution of the United States has placed in their hands, that they have surrendered a great trust, and the American people will rebuke any party and any set of men who have been guilty of abandoning a trust like this given to their safe-keeping."
